TECH TALK

What Will You Do When Your Office Goes “Dark”?

It's a real possibility that you could experience a disruption to the flow of information you rely on and use every day in the operation of your business.

What would you do if you lost access to

- Your customer data base
- Accounts receivables
- Accounts payables
- Inventory files

This can and does happen.

Infrastructure Technology Solutions (ITS) offers data recovery solutions for the recovery of business and personal files.

Data backup is important to any business because of natural and man-made disasters.

- Floods
- Tornadoes
- Data theft
- Computer network “crashes”

Offsite storage in our secure data vault allows for safe, secure and quick recovery of important business files.

ITS is pleased to announce that we are the endorsed provider of IT solutions for the Northwest Lumber Association. We provide programs that are tailored to your business needs. As an NLA member you receive special discounted pricing.

This is the first in a regular series for the Connection magazine called Tech Talk. It is our goal to familiarize you with how technology can improve your business which can improve your bottom line.

We welcome your ideas and suggestions. Contact us at info@infrastructuretech.net.
